From the East

Jerry Donathan, PM
Worshipful Master

Hello Brethren,

In our strenuous lifeline, we often forget to do two serious things. First, we often don't take time for ourselves. Through our normal vocation, family time, church time and other calls of duty we often forget to slow down and reduce our stress. Secondly, we often neglect to simply show gratitude for the things we have or the blessings bestowed upon us. We simply forget to say 'thank you', "gracias", "salamat" or "grazie".

April, known as "Stress Awareness Month", I would encourage every brother to slow down for one moment and think about all of the possible things by which you could be grateful to someone. For some it is simply having another day. But for many it is having a great family gathering. Truly we could all sit down and make an easy list that would include things like fellowship, books, computers, and much more. Of course, each brother would have a unique list that truly defines their own character.

Have you happened to reflect some of the harder things in life that have molded you, such as despairs and unanswered devotions? Would you be where you are today if it weren't for that one annihilation, like we had in High School life that at the time seemed impossible to get over with?

So, not everything in life is destined to be easy but they all have an influence on who we have become, great brothers with great morals and social virtue that strive to do better. There is so much within the body of the lodge to be thankful for and it is only appropriate to take a moment to say: Thank you Brethren....

Faternally,

Jerry Donathan
Worshipful Master

11TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON FREEMASONRY

"He who can not forgive breaks the bridge over which he himself must pass. -George Herbert"

From the South

Bro. Sammy Gillo

Greetings Brethren,

Temperance, Fortitude, and Prudence

By Alphonse Cerza

Freemasonry is sometimes described as a school which teaches men a way of life which has met the test of time. We do not have a monopoly on the teaching of moral Truths, but we do have a special way of teaching which is both interesting and effective. Freemasonry teaches its members all the cardinal virtues which are designed to make its members better men, but this Short Talk will discuss only three of them: Temperance, Fortitude and Prudence.

Temperance: The word "temperance" has acquired an unfortunate connotation in modern times. It is frequently associated with the movement to eliminate the use of alcoholic beverages. But the word has a much broader meaning. The Masonic definition of Temperance may be stated briefly as follows: Temperance is that due restraint upon our affections and passions which renders the body tame and governable, and frees the mind from the allurements of vice. Every Mason is then told that Temperance should be the constant practice of every Mason, as he is taught to avoid excess in all things, such as contracting any licentious or vicious habit, the indulgence of which might lead him to suffer, or to lose his health, or cause him to lose his reputation.

In a general sense it means that one must exercise a degree of self-restraint and self-control at all times, in all the activities of life, including both words and deeds. The key idea is "moderation in all things." The idea is well illustrated in the old statement: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." It does not mean abstinence except in matters which are inherently bad or harmful.

The word "temperance" comes to us from the Latin, which means to temper or harden according to the use intended. As a consequence, we must recognize that there cannot be hard and fast rules in this subject. Each person must decide for himself how much restraint and self-control must be exercised in a particular situation. For example, I like to eat apple pie; one small piece is adequate to satisfy my desire after a hearty meal. My neighbor might not eat as hearty a meal, but might desire a larger piece of apple pie. Both of us by the exercise of self-control and by being temperate refrain from having a second help.

From the Secretary

Bro. Jerico Alvarez

Brethren,

As I continue to process dues payments and record them in iMember, I'm requesting the lodge's member retention committee to assist me in contacting all members who have NOT paid their current year's dues. By mid-April, I will run the delinquent report again and provide an updated copy to the committee to make any determination and take the necessary course of action with regard to nonpayment of dues. Furthermore, if any requests come in regarding requests for dues remissions, forward the information directly to the charity committee for their investigation. For members with multiple lodge memberships, the CMC requires a 60-day notice (section 804.165C), therefore the notice should be listed in the May stated meeting.

Fraternally and sincerely,

Bro Jerico J. Alvarez

Lodge Secretary, MVL289

Masonic Chairs

Masonic Art

Masonic chairs are an art form unto themselves.

Their Masonic symbols go back in time hundreds of years and are part of Masonic history.

Since Freemasonry is built upon the symbolism of Solomon's Temple on Mount Moriah in Jerusalem, the Master's chair is symbolic of a King's throne.

Throughout history, no matter whether these chairs were roughly hand-whittled from logs and branches or lovingly hand carved by a master craftsman and ornately decorated with gold and filigree, the men who have sat in most of these chairs have been elected to and held the most prestigious position in their lodge...that of the Worshipful Master.

These Masonic chairs are artfully crafted with symbolry. They have no ergonomic chair qualities, whatsoever.

These Masonic chairs have no lumbar support, no tilt mechanisms, no levers and most have very little padding. They don't roll on wheels, nor do they have extendable arms, mesh seats or backs to keep you cool.

In fact, rarely will you ever find one which is for sale.

The Master's chair is symbolic of the Master's duties and loyalty to his lodge and its members.

The men who currently sit or previously have sat in these chairs are honorable men who believe in a Supreme Being, universality among men and strive to promote peace and harmony within their lodge and actively support charitable work within their communities.

All of them are hand carved with highly ornate detail work.

FROM: Very Worshipful Ricky Lawler, Grand Lecturer

SUBJECT: 2023 RITUAL COMPETITION

As your Grand Lecturer, I am excited to announce that in 2023 we will again hold a Ritual Competition recognizing the importance of ritual excellence within our Jurisdiction. As we all know, the manner in which we perform our ritual can either motivate or discourage future enlightenment for both the candidate and the Lodge. To this end, we must all strive to demonstrate the best ritual possible. It is our hope that all our members will elect to participate in this exciting competition and demonstrate their commitment to raising the standard of ritual excellence in our Craft.

This year there will be a competition for Master Masons; for the INDIVIDUAL or TEAM to deliver the Candidate Proficiency Work in all three degrees.

During the 2023 Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of California, the Grand Master, the Executive Committee, and the Ritual Committee wish to recognize the individual or team that best exemplifies the involved work.

To participate in the competition, the individual or team must complete and submit the attached Registration Form to their District Inspector (or, in his absence, their Division's Assistant Grand Lecturer) by the deadline of APRIL 1, 2023. The Inspector will work with everyone to identify a suitable date, time and location to exemplify the work, after which he will forward the winning individual's registration form to his Assistant Grand Lecturer (AGL) by JUNE 1, 2023. The AGL will then work with the district winners to identify a suitable date, time and location for the Division competition where the best individual will be identified. The AGL will then forward the winning individual's registration form to the Grand Lecturer by SEPTEMBER 1, 2023. The Grand Lecturer will invite the division winners with the four (4) highest division scores to attend the final competition in Fresno on Saturday, September 30th, 2023. The winner of the final competition will be identified by the Grand Lecturer at the Annual Communication of Grand Lodge. All division winners will be recognized by the Grand Master at Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge which will take place October 27-29th, 2023.

The winner of this competition will receive the title of "Best Ritualist 2023" for the involved work. Each individual or team division winner is encouraged to attend Grand Lodge, at their own expense. Awards not presented at Grand Lodge will be presented later by their respective Assistant Grand Lecturers.

It is my hope that master masons from every lodge will compete in the competition and demonstrate their ritual prowess.

Tips for Coping with Your Stress

The CDC provides some basic ideas to help you cope with stress...

- Take care of yourself – eat healthy, exercise regularly, get plenty of sleep, give yourself a break if you feel stressed.
- Discuss your problems with a parent, friend, or another trusted source.
- Avoid drugs and alcohol.
- Recognize when you need more help – know when to talk to a psychologist, social worker, counselor if things continue.

Potentially the most valuable takeaway here is knowing how to talk to others about your stress. This goes both ways, as you need to know how to discuss your problems with others as well as talk to anyone that comes to you with their issues.

The Masonic Monthly Poem

Remember You're A Mason

Unknown Author

When the pressures of recession
Make us concentrate on greed,
Take heed, a worthy Mason
Cares about another's needs

Don't let pressures of the moment
Make your obligation sway,
Stop and help a fallen brother
Or another by the way

What you give is like a bubble
Whenever you assist,
What it costs in time and trouble
Is, soon after, never missed

Brother, bear that obligation
You accepted on your knee,
It's in direct relation
To your own security

Never hesitate, my brother
Square your actions now and say,
I'll remember I'm a Mason,
And behave like that today

With regard to human kindness
And the 'Golden Rule', I pray,
I'll remember I'm a Mason...
And behave like that today.
